Teaching Austrian Economics in Austria as a Non-Austrian: A Note

Bryan C. McCannon

Abstract

In the summer of 2009 I taught a course in Austrian Economics in Vienna, Austria. This note provides details on the design and structure of the course and outlines the advantages of it to the instructor and students. The objective is to provide information for both Austrian and non-Austrian economists so they can offer a similar course.

---

1 Assistant Professor of Economics, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem NC 27109. Email: mccannbc@wfu.edu.